Engaging with Korean College Students for programs, editing reports and designing surveys

Project Title	Engaging with Korean College Students for programs, editing reports and designing surveys
Summary	Assist American Spaces Korea team with drafting and editing reports and making presentation materials and engaging with Korean college students as part of Public Diplomacy programs
Country	Korea

Project Description

- -Designing evaluation surveys (pre- and post- program surveys and surveys for potential program participants to see what would be interesting/useful to them)
- -Creating slide decks for lectures on foreign policy priorities that could be used by Mission speakers for their presentation either at the American Spaces or for virtual programs
- -Editing/proof reading of promotional content, report, and proposals that American Spaces team Korea draft for programs.
- -Engaging with Korean college students and North Korean defector community to organize programs

Required Skills or Interests

Skill(s)
Editing and proofreading
Survey / polling design
Writing

Additional Information

Intern will be part of American Spaces Korea team composed of four staff members and one Korean intern. American Spaces Korea is part of Public Diplomacy section, U.S. Embassy Seoul and consists of the American Center Korea and four American Corners in Busan, Daegu, Gwangju and Pyeongtaek (open in June). They serve as programming platforms targeting our key audience in support of United States foreign policy objectives as well as supporting five pillars of American Spaces worldwide: providing accurate information about the USA, offering English language learning opportunities, engaging alumni of U.S. exchange programs, cultural & skills development programs, and promoting study in the USA.

Intern will assist with a variety of dynamic U.S. Embassy Public Diplomacy programs that Spaces team organize – the beauty of American Spaces programs is that we can be as much as creative to organize programs in wide ranges of topics targeting audience from established opinion leaders of government officials, NGO leadership, professors, and entrepreneurs to evolving voices of North Korean defector community, young professionals, leading college students and start-up.

Intern will also have opportunities to engage with Korean target audience as virtual programs are now part of American Spaces program formats with COVID-19 circumstances. Through this internship, intern will be able to learn about how to bring positive changes to individual lives, communities, bilateral and regional relations and global challenges, working with dedicated team members on exciting projects.

Language Requirements

Language Speaking Proficiency Reading Proficiency Importance

Korean Elementary proficiency Elementary proficiency Nice to Have